NCC Faculty Job posting

The Department of Neurology at Massachusetts General Hospital is seeking an ABPN certified/eligible academic Neurointensivist to join the Division of Neurocritical Care and to join the faculty of Harvard Medical School at the Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor level.

The successful candidate should be clinically active and have a local, national or international reputation as an expert in Neurocritical care. An ideal candidate should have an established research interest and demonstrate ability to attract sustained research funding. Although substantial direct clinical and research experience would be advantageous, less experienced candidates with exceptional promise will also be considered.

Candidates should be fellowship trained in Neurocritical Care and be BE/BC in Neurology and in Neurocritical Care. The ideal candidate will have a strong foundation as a clinician and an established commitment to academics and teaching. Appointment as an Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor at the Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience, training, and achievements. A corresponding hospital appointment will accompany the Harvard Medical School appointment. Suitable candidates will have MD or MD-PhD degrees. Applications from women and representatives of minority groups are welcomed and encouraged.

Qualified candidates should email a cover letter and curriculum vitae to:

W. Taylor Kimberly, MD, PhD
Chief, Division of Neurocritical Care
Department of Neurology
Massachusetts General Hospital
Email: wtkimberly@mgh.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.