Brigham and Women’s Hospital is seeking an academic neurologist with strong interest and expertise in neurology and headache medicine. The candidate will have the opportunity to develop a clinical practice at the Graham Headache Center at Brigham and Women’s/ Faulkner Hospital and integrate with academic divisions to pursue academic interests in research and training of residents, fellows, and medical students. Participation in inpatient and consultation services are available. Hospital appointment is Associate Neurologist and academic title of Instructor, Assistant Professor or Associate Professor at Harvard Medical School is commensurate with experience and scholarship in the field. Candidates should possess a Massachusetts license to practice medicine and be board-eligible or certified in Neurology and Headache Medicine. The ideal candidate should have a strong record as a clinician in headache medicine and should possess a passionate commitment to patient care, academics, and teaching. Additional conditions of employment are provided via this link: https://www.partners.org/For-Medical-Professionals/Employment-Conditions.aspx

Qualified candidates should email her/his cover letter and curriculum vitae to:

Paul Rizzoli, MD
Chief, Division of Headache
John R. Graham Headache Center
Brigham and Women’s/ Faulkner Hospital
Suite 4H
1153 Centre Street
Boston, MA 02130
Email: prizzoli@bwh.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law. We strongly encourage applications from women and minorities.