The Department of Neurology at Brigham and Women’s Hospital is seeking a physician with a track record of administrative, clinical, and scholarly accomplishments for the position of Executive Vice Chair. Hospital employment and academic appointment, up to the rank of Associate Professor, at Harvard Medical School will be dependent upon the individual’s prior experience and scholarship. The Executive Vice Chair will serve in a senior leadership role within the Department of Neurology with responsibility in clinical operations. The candidate should have a track record of administrative leadership, scholarship, mentoring and teaching trainees. To be considered, candidates must hold the M.D. or M.D./Ph.D. degrees and must be certified in neurology by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. Candidates should have strong teamwork, management, and interpersonal abilities. Additional conditions of employment are provided via this link: https://www.partners.org/For-Medical-Professionals/Employment-Conditions.aspx

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, a personal statement of interest, and a curriculum vitae to the email address below:

Tracy Batchelor, M.D., Chair
Department of Neurology
Brigham and Women’s Hospital
Email: tbatchelor@bwh.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.