Massachusetts Eye and Ear is seeking a clinical and academic leader to serve as Chief of the Department of Anesthesia.

We seek candidates with a strong record as a scholar, mentor, and teacher, national and international recognition for anesthesia, academic and clinical accomplishments, and exceptional leadership, managerial, and collaborative skills. Ideally, s/he would be a proven academic medical leader with strong ambulatory surgical experience, significant experience in the Boston healthcare market and who can lead a complex and successful organization to even higher levels of excellence. Appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor at Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience, training, and achievements, in addition to teaching activities.

This individual will be responsible for the full scope of clinical and academic activities of the Department, including:

- Leading the recruitment, supervision, and development of the faculty in the Department;
- Driving the clinical, academic, and research missions of the Department;
- Ensuring that the highest level of patient care is provided to our patients;
- Working with Hospital Chiefs and other leaders to achieve the Department’s strategic plan;
- Providing administrative, academic, and financial oversight of the Department

We are also searching for a Chief Medical Officer and will consider qualified candidates for a combined role of CMO and Chief of Anesthesia.

Letters of application or nomination, including current curriculum vitae, should be sent by September 24, 2018 to:
