BRIGHAM HEALTH EMERGENCY MEDICINE
DIRECTOR OF CLINICAL OPERATIONS, BRIGHAM AND WOMEN'S FAULKNER HOSPITAL

Brigham Health is seeking a Director of Clinical Operations in the Department of Emergency Medicine at Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital (BWFH).

BWFH is a 176-bed, non-profit community teaching hospital located in the desirable Jamaica Plain community in southwest Boston. Founded in 1900, Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital offers comprehensive medical, surgical, and psychiatric care, as well as emergency, ambulatory, and diagnostic services. It is a part of Brigham Health, which also includes Brigham and Women's Hospital and Brigham and Women's Physicians Organization. The Department of Emergency Medicine cares for over 30,000 patients per year and has experienced a significant volume growth over the past four years and plans are underway for an Emergency Department expansion and a new ED Observation Unit.

The successful candidate will have completed a 4-year residency in emergency medicine and be board certified. The candidate will possess the ability to work within an integrated health system as a member of a team of other Emergency Medicine operations directors at Brigham Health and easily transition between community and academic practices. This position will require teaching of medical students and residents.

The position is eligible for an academic appointment at Harvard Medical School at a rank of Instructor or Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, commensurate with experience, achievement, recognition, and teaching. The position also offers a competitive salary and an outstanding comprehensive benefit package. Brigham Health is committed to the personal and professional development of our providers.

Interested candidates should send a letter and Curriculum Vitae to Michael VanRooyen, MD, MPH, Professor and Chair, Department of Emergency Medicine, Brigham and Women’s Hospital. Please apply by confidential email to mdeloge@bwh.harvard.edu.
