Pediatric Hospital Medicine Position – Weekend Rounder
Massachusetts General Hospital

The Pediatric Hospital Medicine Service, a division of the Department of Pediatrics at Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH), is seeking candidates to join our Academic Pediatric Hospitalist program. The position includes a minimum of six weekends. Each weekend day will include approximately 4 hours of rounding with the team and 1 hour of documentation and communication. Additionally, all Hospital Medicine faculty are expected to engage in supervision and teaching of Harvard Medical Students and MGH Pediatric Residents.

The successful candidate will have strong clinical skills in Pediatric inpatient medicine including Family Centered Care. In addition, the candidate will have strong teaching skills. Requirements include an MD or equivalent degree, eligibility for medical licensure in the State of Massachusetts, certification (or eligibility for certification) by the American Board of Pediatric Medicine, and PALS certification.

Academic appointment at Harvard Medical School will be at the level of Lecturer, Part-time, if the HMS 50 hours/year teaching requirements are fulfilled. If this were combined with other activities that result in working the equivalent of at least 1 day/week, appointment as Instructor, part-time, assistant professor, part-time, or associate professor-part time could be considered, if commensurate with experience, qualifications, and achievements.

These positions will become available July 1, 2019, and will remain open until filled.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.
