Pediatric Hospital Medicine Position
Massachusetts General Hospital

The Pediatric Hospital Medicine Service, a division of the Department of Pediatrics at Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH), is seeking an experienced candidate to join our Academic Pediatric Hospitalist program. This is up to a 1.0 FTE (negotiable) which will include both an MGH and Harvard Medical School (HMS) appointment. Responsibilities include admitting patients, bed and capacity management, coordination of care and serving as the physician of record for patients admitted to the service, overnight call (pager) coverage with availability to come in for emergencies and medical consults. Additionally, all Hospital Medicine faculty are expected to engage in supervision and teaching of Harvard Medical Students and MGH Pediatric Residents. It is also expected that the faculty member will participate in research, scholarly activities, division meetings and projects.

The successful candidate will have strong clinical skills in Pediatric inpatient medicine including Family Centered Care. In addition, the candidate will have strong teaching skills. Experience/Expertise in EPIC EHR charting recommended. Requirements include an MD or equivalent degree, eligibility for medical licensure in the State of Massachusetts, certification (or eligibility for certification) by the American Board of Pediatric Medicine, and PALS certification.

Academic appointment at Harvard Medical School at the level of Lecturer, Part-time, Instructor Part-time, Assistant Professor, Part-time, or Associate Professor, Part-time will be commensurate with experience, qualifications and achievements. Should the role expand to time equivalent to four days/week on average, the candidate could be eligible for a full-time appointment.

This position will become available July 1, 2019, and will remain open until filled.
