Brigham and Women’s Hospital -- Hematology Faculty

The Division of Hematology at Brigham and Women’s Hospital, an affiliate of Harvard Medical School, seeks applicants for the following faculty positions:

Basic or Translational Research: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

Candidates with an M.D., Ph.D., or both may be considered. Candidates holding early career awards from NIH or private foundations are desired. All candidates should have demonstrated expertise as mentors and researchers, and should be eligible to apply for NIH funding. Clinical expertise that will allow participation in patient care and the training of clinical fellows is desirable. Clinicians must be board certified in hematology.

Applicants will be recruited to run an independent laboratory-based research program. In addition, clinicians will be asked to contribute 10-20% effort in patient care to a diverse population in both inpatient and outpatient settings. Candidates also will be expected to teach and mentor trainees of Harvard Medical School.

Appointment at the appropriate academic rank at Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience, training and achievements.

Clinical Positions (Benign Hematology): Instructor, Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

Candidates with an M.D. or M.D., Ph.D. may be considered. Applicants must have clinical expertise that will allow participation in patient care and the training of clinical fellows. Applicants must be board certified in hematology.

Applicants will be recruited to spend the majority of their time in outpatient and inpatient clinical care in the Brigham network of hospitals with a portion of their time dedicated to clinical research and teaching. Candidates also will be expected to teach and mentor trainees of Harvard Medical School.

Appointment at the appropriate academic rank at Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience, training and achievements. Successful candidates will have a clinical appointment at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Brigham and Women’s Faulkner Hospital, and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Applicants for either position should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, brief summaries of past accomplishments and current clinical and research interests.

Three letters of recommendation should be sent separately from individuals who can provide an evaluation of the candidate's clinical or research and teaching accomplishments and future potential.
