ACADEMIC PULMONOLOGIST
CLINICAL EXPERTISE AND INNOVATION

Pulmonary & Critical Care Medicine at Brigham and Women's Hospital seeks a Physician to join our faculty. The successful candidate will focus on the in- and outpatient care of adult pulmonary vascular disease patients, and patients with unexplained exertional intolerance at Brigham and Women's Hospital and Newton Wellesley Hospital. Additionally, the successful candidate will have expertise in invasive cardiopulmonary exercise testing and right heart catheterizations. The successful faculty member would be expected to participate in the teaching of pulmonary and critical care fellows, advanced pulmonary vascular disease fellows, housestaff, and Harvard medical students. Advanced training in pulmonary vascular disease management is encouraged. The successful applicant will have demonstrated ability and accomplishment in clinical expertise, administrative leadership, and scholarship. Academic rank as Instructor or Assistant Professor at Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. Applicants should possess an M.D. VISA sponsorship is not available.
