Heart Failure Cardiologist
Faculty Position
Department of Medicine
Massachusetts General Hospital

Outstanding opportunity to join a top-5 ranked hospital and heart care program per the U.S. News and World Report 2019 – 2020 Best Hospital Rankings.

The Massachusetts General Hospital Cardiology Division is recruiting cardiologists who are dedicated to the care of patients with heart failure, including individuals undergoing advanced heart failure interventions with left ventricular assist devices and cardiac transplantation. Dynamic positions combine outpatient clinical care at our facilities in the New England area as well as inpatient care at the MGH in Boston.

These rewarding positions will combine inpatient and outpatient clinical service within a rapidly expanding advanced Heart Failure Program while also providing opportunities to teach and engage in a thriving clinical research program. An Academic Appointment at Harvard Medical School may be at the Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor Rank and will be commensurate with experience, training and achievements in addition to teaching activities. Salary and benefits will be commensurate with the candidate's experience and qualifications.

We invite highly qualified BE/BC candidates who are committed to excellence in patient care and possess strong clinical skills to apply. Candidates completing cardiology fellowships in June 2021 are also encouraged to apply. The review process is ongoing.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.

Interested applicants should submit inquiries with CV and publications list to:
