The Corrigan Minehan Heart Center of Massachusetts General Hospital are actively recruiting a faculty member to join the Heart Center ICU team. This position is open for a physician scientist or educator who works well as part of a multidisciplinary team caring for critically ill cardiac, cardiovascular, and cardiac surgical patients. Working under the leadership of the Heart Center, the successful candidate will participate in clinical practice, development of research activities, and administration of teaching programs for residents, fellows, medical students, nurse practitioners, physician assistants and others under the daily direction of the Medical Directors of the Heart Center Intensive Care Units. The candidate will work with patients across a broad spectrum of cardiovascular care.

The candidate must be board-certified in cardiovascular disease or cardiac surgery or cardiovascular anesthesia, and with added qualifications/board certification in critical care, and will have a demonstrated track record of excellence in clinical care, research, and education.

The candidate will be expected to contribute to the clinical, educational, research, and administrative functions of the Cardiology Division. An Academic Appointment at Harvard Medical School may be at the Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor Rank and will be commensurate with experience, training, and achievements in addition to teaching activities. Salary and benefits will be commensurate with the candidate’s experience and qualifications.

Interested candidates should send a letter and Curriculum Vitae to MGHCardiologySearch@partners.org, please add in subject line of: Cardiovascular Intensivist.
