Comprehensive and General Neurology Clinician

The Massachusetts General Hospital Department of Neurology Division is seeking a Board-Certified or Board-Eligible Neurologist to join our academic Comprehensive Neurology practice.

The applicant will be expected to be focused on clinical neurology and teaching and supervising medical students, residents and clinical fellows in a busy clinical practice based at Massachusetts General Hospital. Advanced training or interest in a neurological subspecialty such as Headache, is welcomed but not required. Opportunities to participate in clinical research and clinical trials are available to interested candidates.

The successful candidates will be considered for appointment to the faculty of Harvard Medical School at the Instructor, Assistant Professor or Associate Professor level based on experience and qualifications.

Interested candidates should submit a Curriculum Vitae and letter describing interests and experience to Merit E. Cudkowicz, MD, MSc & Andrew J. Cole, MD at MGHNeurologySearch@partners.org

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law. People with disabilities, Veterans, women and members of underrepresented minority groups are strongly encouraged to apply
