

Beth Israel Deaconess
Medical Center

Hematologist Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Boston

The Division of Hematology and Hematologic Malignancies at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center (BIDMC) announces an opportunity for a Hematologist with expertise in leukemia and/or myeloma. The successful candidate will build a clinical practice in Hematology, participate in a robust training program of residents and fellows, and assume an integral role in clinical research.

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, the tertiary care hospital of Beth Israel Lahey Health, is a member of the Dana-Farber Harvard Cancer Center, an NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center. Salary and benefits will be competitive with other institutions. Applicants should have an MD or MD/PhD degree and must be board certified or board eligible in Internal Medicine and Hematology. The candidate will be put forward for an Instructor, Assistant or Associate Professor level appointment at Harvard Medical School.

Please send letters of interest, curriculum vitae and bibliography in one document by applying online at: <http://www.hmfphysicians.org/careers/> and email Elana Grandberg at: egrandbe@bidmc.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL
TEACHING HOSPITAL