

MASSACHUSETTS
GENERAL HOSPITAL

Faculty Position
Inpatient Cardiologist
Department of Medicine
Massachusetts General Hospital

The Cardiology Division and Corrigan Minehan Heart Center at the Massachusetts General Hospital are seeking cardiologists with academic and clinical expertise in inpatient cardiology.

The position will serve primarily in a clinical role with active involvement in inpatient evaluation and management activities. This includes coverage on the Cardiac Step-Down Unit, Cardiology Consult Service, and the Cardiac Access Unit. As a member of the cardiology division, the selected candidate will also be expected to contribute to the educational mission and assume teaching responsibilities for cardiology fellows and medical residents.

Candidates should be superb cardiologists, possess exceptional collaborative skills, and demonstrate a commitment to teaching and mentorship. Positions are being considered for mid-career faculty members. Less experienced candidates with exceptional promise will also be considered. All candidates should meet or exceed the criteria for appointment as an Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor at Harvard Medical School.

Interested candidates are requested to submit a Curriculum Vitae to Dr. Danita Sanborn for consideration: MGHCardiologySearch@partners.org

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.
