

General/Cardiac Imaging Cardiologist VA Boston Healthcare System

The Cardiology Section at VA Boston Healthcare System (VABHS) invites applications for a full-time position as Cardiologist with skills in cardiac imaging. The successful candidate will participate in the general cardiology service at VABHS with a focus on echocardiography, ambulatory cardiology, and inpatient care. The position involves teaching residents and cardiovascular disease fellows from affiliates at Harvard Medical School and Boston University Chobanian and Avedisian School of Medicine.

VABHS is a multi-campus tertiary care medical center that provides a full range of patient care services along with nationally recognized education and innovative research activities. VABHS has one of the largest research programs in VA with several federally funded research centers, including VA's signature genetic repository, the Million Veteran Program, which offer significant collaborative opportunities.

There are opportunities to develop clinical research and/or quality improvement programs within the Section. Additional opportunities may be available for leadership roles. Accomplishments should be commensurate with academic appointment as Instructor, Assistant Professor, or Associate Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School.

The position requires US citizenship, M.D. with licensure, and the candidate should have level 3 training in echocardiography and Board Certification or eligibility in cardiovascular disease.

We are an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Women and minority candidates are particularly encouraged to apply.

The position offers a competitive salary as well as a generous leave and benefits package. For more information visit: <https://vacareers.va.gov/careers/physician-jobs/>
