Faculty Position Palliative Care Section Head Massachusetts General Hospital Department of Medicine Division of Palliative Care & Geriatric Medicine

The Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) Division of Palliative Care & Geriatric Medicine is seeking an Attending Physician trained in Palliative Medicine with exceptional clinical and leadership expertise to become the next Section Head for the Palliative Care Service.

Reporting to the Chief of the Division of Palliative Care & Geriatric Medicine, the Section Head for Palliative Care is directly responsible for the clinical services, quality control, general operations, and overall effectiveness of the Palliative Care Service and is expected to proactively support and participate in the academic, educational, and research missions of the service.

The successful candidate will have clinical training and experience in Palliative Medicine with significant leadership, academic, and professional development experience working in the academic healthcare environment. In addition to their leadership role within the Division, the position will provide care in the ambulatory clinic, emergency department, hospital-based consultative service, and inpatient palliative care unit settings.

The MGH Division of Palliative Care & Geriatric Medicine holds at our core the importance of building a diverse team who are trained to deliver equitable, high-quality care. We are seeking candidates with a clear commitment to diversity and inclusion, mentorship, and professional development. The successful candidate will be expected to promote and participate in a collaborative relationship with other health care professionals and serve as a role-model for professional medical practice in the management of patients with complex disease and wholistic care needs. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who value diversity, inclusion, and health equity.

Candidates must meet the requirements for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor of Medicine at the Harvard Medical School with experience, training, and achievements in addition to teaching activities. Suitable candidates will have a Doctor of Medicine degree, and eligible for Board Certification in Hospice & Palliative Medicine.

Interested candidates should send a Personal Statement and Curriculum Vitae to James Breed, Administrative Director, Palliative Care & Geriatric Medicine: JBREED@MGB.ORG.

We are an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.
