

Academic Urogynecology Opportunity at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center

The Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Biology, Harvard Medical Faculty Physicians at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center (BIDMC) is seeking a full-time surgeon to join our Division of Urogynecology. Our dedicated team of specialists are well-known for providing equitable and comprehensive Urogynecology care to a diverse patient population, with expertise in minimally invasive surgical treatments. We are deeply invested in teaching medical students and training the next generation of OBGYN providers. The ideal candidate must be BC/BCE in Urogynecology and demonstrate a strong academic interest with commitment to research and educational excellence while also showing expertise and efficiency with pelvic reconstructive procedures.

Ambulatory care and surgeries will take place both at the main campus in Boston, as well as our affiliate clinical sites and hospitals in the greater Boston area. Academic appointment as instructor, assistant, or associate professor at Harvard Medical School in the Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Biology and salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Send inquiries and CV to: Roger Lefevre, MD, MBA, FACOG Chief, Division of Urogynecology, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, ATTN: Karen Perry, 330 Brookline Ave, E-KS3, Boston, MA 02215; Email: kfperry@bidmc.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender identity or expression, national origin, age, citizenship, sexual orientation, ancestry, marital status, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, physical or mental disability, medical condition or status as a disabled veteran or a veteran of the Vietnam era or any other characteristic protected by applicable law.