

PRINCIPAL INVESTIGATOR

Brigham and Women's Hospital seeks a nationally recognized scientist to serve as a Principal Investigator within the Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Endoscopy. Applicants should be established and highly productive investigators focused on research related to the disorders of the gastrointestinal tract, liver, biliary tree or pancreas. The individual will be proposed for an academic appointment as an Assistant or Associate Professor at Harvard Medical School commensurate with qualifications. Candidates will be expected to participate in the teaching activities of the Harvard Medical School for medical students, graduate students, and postdoctoral fellows.

Brigham and Women's Hospital is committed to ensuring our diverse community feels welcome, cared for, and valued. Candidates who have experience working with a diverse range of faculty, staff and patients, and who can contribute to the climate of inclusivity are encouraged to apply.

Candidates with an M.D., Ph.D., or M.D./Ph.D. are eligible to apply. Please send CV to: David E. Cohen, M.D., Ph.D., Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Endoscopy, Brigham and Women's Hospital, 75 Francis Street, Boston, MA 02115-6195, or via e-mail to: kdriscoll@bwh.harvard.edu.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law. Women and minority candidates are particularly encouraged to apply.
