

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

Clinical Position - General Gastroenterology Program

The Division of Gastroenterology at Massachusetts General Hospital welcomes applications from qualified individuals for a clinical position in our General Gastroenterology program, including GI hospitalists. The MGH GI Division is at the forefront of clinical care, fellowship training, and investigation in gastroenterology and hepatology. Our division has a strong tradition of providing exceptional clinical care with a collegial, team-based approach. Successful candidates will possess strong consultative and endoscopic skills and enjoy working collaboratively. Applicants must be committed to teaching as well as life-long learning. Candidates must possess proficiency in the management of gastrointestinal health and must be board certified or board eligible in gastroenterology. Initial appointment can be at the Instructor, Assistant, or Associate Professor level at Harvard Medical School commensurate with qualifications, and in the Gastroenterology Division, MGH. Affirmative Action /Equal Opportunity Employer. Inquiries by women and underrepresented minority applicants are encouraged.

Please submit CV or inquiries to the Gastroenterology Search Committee
Massachusetts General Hospital
Division of Gastroenterology
55 Fruit Street, Wang 5
Boston, MA 02114
or via email to lgurska@mgh.harvard.edu

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.