

Dana-Farber/Boston Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders Center

Pediatric Hematologist/Oncologist

The Dana-Farber/Boston Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders Center is seeking a pediatric hematologist/oncologist for a faculty position (Instructor or Assistant Professor) with specialization in thrombosis and hemostasis, sickle cell disease or general non-malignant hematology at Boston Children's Hospital (BCH) and Dana-Farber Cancer Institute (DFCI). The successful candidate will participate in the clinical, clinical research, and administrative activities that include a multidisciplinary team with deep expertise in the conditions we treat. The candidate must also collaborate with pediatric subspecialists (including Interventional Radiology, Cardiology, Surgery, Intensive Care, and Laboratory Medicine), Pharmacists, and Nursing staff. Applicants should be interested in further developing experience in clinical trials. The successful candidate will participate in teaching activities of postdoctoral trainees, students, fellows, and residents.

The Dana-Farber/Boston Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders Center has a faculty numbering more than 130, with exceptional research and clinical programs in non-malignant hematology, hematologic malignancies, solid tumors, and neurooncology, a robust Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplant Program, Vascular Anomalies Center and world-leading Experimental Therapeutics and Gene Therapy Programs.

The clinical service in non-malignant hematology includes a busy inpatient consult service, and approximately 5000 ambulatory visits per year, including about 1500 new patients annually.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.

Salary will be commensurate with experience. Interested candidates should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of interest, and three letters of recommendation to:
