

Mass General Brigham

Staff Neuroradiologist

The Department of Radiology at Harvard Medical School, Brigham and Women's Hospital has an opening for a staff neuroradiologist with a record of accomplishments in academic neuroradiology.

Located in the thriving Boston metropolis, the Department of Radiology at Brigham and Women's Hospital is a member of Mass General Brigham Integrated Healthcare system, comprised of 2 renowned academic medical centers and 10 specialty and community hospitals. It has connections to biotech and the broad scientific community within Harvard Medical School and MIT, providing ample opportunities for innovative research and teaching. Additional benefits to living in this vibrant, resourceful and culture-rich environment include excellent public-school systems, easy access to both the ocean and the mountains, and at-home workstations to support work-life balance. The department has a robust education and research portfolio including 42 residents and 65 subspecialty fellows. In addition, the department offers 20% protected research/education time (one day per week).

Our Neuroradiology Division has excellent faculty as well as clinical and research facilities and is surrounded by world-class programs in the neurosciences. Candidates should be Radiology Board Certified, with fellowship training in neuroradiology. A Harvard Medical School appointment as Instructor, Assistant or Associate Professor of Radiology may be offered.

Interested individuals should send a cover letter and a CV by email to:
