

Chief, Division of Vascular Surgery
Department of Surgery, Brigham and Women's Hospital

Brigham and Women's Hospital is actively recruiting an academic and clinical leader to serve as the Chief of the Division of Vascular Surgery with a rank of Associate Professor or Professor at Harvard Medical School. Candidates must be board-certified in Vascular Surgery, qualified in the care of patients complex vascular disease, and actively involved in related research.

The individual should have a demonstrated ability to both build and strengthen clinical and educational programs and to foster collaboration across specialties and institutional borders. The candidate must have well-developed leadership, management, and organizational skills. Their work in the area of vascular surgery must be recognized nationally and internationally as evidenced by publications, leadership roles in scholarly societies, and a regional, national and international patient referral base. The candidate must also be a committed teacher with experience mentoring students, residents, fellows, and faculty members.

Brigham and Women's Hospital and the Department of Surgery are committed to ensuring our diverse community feels welcome, cared for, and valued. Candidates who have experience working with a diverse range of faculty, staff, and patients, and who can contribute to the climate of inclusivity are encouraged to identify their experiences in these areas.

We are an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Interested candidates should submit their curriculum vitae and a letter of interest by email to Chandrajit P. Raut, M.D., M.Sc., Chair, Search Committee for Chief of Vascular Surgery, Brigham and Women's Hospital at the following address: VascularChiefSearch@bwh.harvard.edu.